Adverbs of Frequency

- Adverbs of frequency tell us how often something happens. They are used with the present simple. They are:
always (100%), usually (75%), often (50%), sometimes (25%), seldom/rarely (10%), never (0%).
- Adverbs of frequency usually come before the main verb (drink, work, leave, etc) but after auxiliary verbs (have, do, can, will, etc) and the verb to be.
He always behaves like this.
He is always late for work.
Do you sometimes stay at home on Saturday evenings?
- Some adverbs of frequency can come at the beginning or end of a sentence (sometimes, usually, often).
He goes to the park sometimes.

British buses always run on time.

- 1 Complete the table with the missing adverbs of frequency.

100%	always	25%
75%	10%
50%	0%	never

- 2 Tick the appropriate gap in the sentences below to indicate the correct position of the adverb of frequency.

- 1 Bob goes to the park with his friends. (sometimes)
- 2 Do you wake up early in the morning ? (usually)
- 3 Peter and Kate drive to work (never). They catch the eight o'clock bus. (always)
- 4 It rains in this part of the country. (often)
- 5 I can beat Tom at tennis. (never)
- 6 They are happy to see us. (always)
- 7 Paula goes to the theatre. (rarely)
- 8 Sheila has enough money to go out at weekends. (seldom)

- 3 Ask your partner about his/her habits. Use adverbs of frequency. Tell the class.

How often do you...?

- play in the park
- go cycling
- go swimming
- watch TV
- meet your friends
- listen to music
- read books/ magazines
- buy a newspaper
- do the shopping
- tidy your room
- cook

Tina sometimes plays in the park. She often goes cycling.

- 4 Rewrite the sentences including the adverb of frequency, as in the example.

Game

Play in teams. Each team chooses one place and makes a list of what you can do there. The other team asks questions to find out what the members of the first team are doing.

- kitchen • garden • living room • bedroom

Team A S1: Are you in the kitchen?
Team B S1: Yes, I am.

Team A S2: Are you washing the dishes?
Team B S2: No, I'm not.

Stative Verbs

Stative verbs are verbs which do not normally have continuous tenses because they describe a state rather than an action. Some of them are: have (= possess), like, love, hate, want, know, remember, forget, understand, think, believe, need, smell, see, cost, etc.

I love Chinese food. (NOT: ~~I'm loving~~ Chinese food.)

I believe you're wrong. (NOT: ~~I'm believing~~ you're wrong.)

Some stative verbs have continuous tenses but there is a difference in meaning. Read the following examples:

- She has a red car. (= possesses)
She's having lunch now. (= is eating)
- I think she's a very clever girl. (= believe)
I'm thinking about working late tonight. (= I am considering)
