

 the rabbit into a house.  On the table there were some cookies, and Alice

1 ate one. She began to grow again, and at the blink of an eye her hand was out of the window and her head lifted the  roof. Scared, the rabbit asked a butterfly to give her a drink and that made her small again. She started to talk to the well dressed

“Oh, my God! I am late, I am so late, the Queen will be so upset!”

A rabbit passed in a hurry by Alice and disappeared beyond a bush.

Alice was so curious, she crawled into the bush and found a tunnel.

She entered the tunnel curious to find out more about a rabbit who talks and has a pocket watch!

All of a sudden she fell into a deep, deep hole. At the end of the hole, she found a room with only one table in the middle and a little door on a wall. Alice was too big to fit. On the table there was a bottle labeled “Drink me”. And so she did. She began to shrink and got scared and cried. But soon after, she followed

