Exam Overview

The Cambridge English: Key for Schools exam, also known as the Key English Test (KET) for Schools is an examination set at A2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). It is made up of three papers, each testing a different area of ability in English: Reading and Writing, Listening, and Speaking. Reading and Writing carry 50% of the marks; Listening and Speaking carry 25% of the marks each.

Reading and Writing	1 hour 10 minutes
Listening	30 minutes (approximately)
Speaking	8–10 minutes (for each pair of students)

All the examination questions are task-based. Rubrics (instructions) are important and should be read carefully. They set the context and give important information about the tasks. There is a separate answer sheet for recording answers for the Reading and Writing paper.

Paper	Format	Task focus
Reading and Writing Nine tasks 56 questions	Part 1: matching. Matching five sentences to eight notices, plus one example.	Part 1: reading short texts for the main message.
	Part 2: three-option multiple choice sentences. Reading five sentences on a related topic and selecting the correct answer.	Part 2: reading and identifying appropriate vocabulary
	Part 3: three-option multiple choice and matching. Five multiple-choice items. Five matching items in a dialogue, selecting from eight possible responses.	Part 3: functional language. Identifying an appropriate response.
	Part 4: right/wrong/doesn't say or three-option multiple choice. Seven items on one long text or three short texts.	Part 4: reading for detailed understanding and main idea.
	Part 5: three-option multiple choice cloze. Reading a text with eight gaps and selecting the correct word to complete each gap.	Part 5: reading and identifying appropriate structural words.
	Part 6: word completion. Five words to complete, using a definition.	Part 6: identifying appropriate item and spelling.
	Part 7: open cloze. Short text with ten gaps. Completing the text with one word in each gap.	Part 7: reading and identifying appropriate words.
	Part 8: information transfer. Two short texts to prompt completion of a third text with five gaps. Completing the text with words or numbers.	Part 8: reading with focus on content and accuracy.
	Part 9: guided writing. Short text or rubric to prompt written response. Three messages to communicate.	Part 9: Writing a short note, email or postcard of 25–35 words.
